1.1.1 Test subsubsection

- This is a default bullet list
  - You can have several levels
    * Which is very practical during quick notes
      · Even as low as this

enumerate

- Should you want numbers instead of bullet points, this is the style for you

+ This may be used both within enumerative lists, and regular bullet lists

- Or minus, if you prefer

· Or whatever β Actually, you can customize your bullet points and just add new ones to the .cls file, or do like I've done here

1. When I do my lecture notes, I often only wish to have bullet point lists. Sometimes, however, I need some numbers

2. Enumerate first level

   - See, a bullet point!

- First level bullet point

  1. And for the second level
